THE DAILY MEMPHIS AVALANCHE.

By Gallaway, Rhea & Cluskey.) MEMPHIS, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1867. (Volume Nine—Number 229

THE DAILY AVALANCHE

Clever is elected delegate to Congress from New Mexico.

Wm. Bartlett, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of New Hampshire, died Tuesday of consumption, aged forty years.

The assets of all the United States insurance companies are one hundred and twelve millions of dollars.

The tobacco factory of Reuben Ragland, at Petersburg, Virginia, was burned Wednesday. Loss two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Insured for eighty thousand dollars.

Extra, the winner of the Burnet House stake, at Cincinnati, on Monday, over Duke of Orleans, Lee, Paul, Lancaster and Revolver, has been sold to Purdy & Hunter for $10,000.

O'Laughlin, one of the so-called Lincoln conspirators, died of yellow fever on the twenty-third instant. All of the Confederate prisoners have been very attentive to the sick at Dry Tortugas.

The driver of George M. Patchen [illegible] ruled off the Abbey track at St. Louis, [illegible]—being two lengths ahead he held [illegible] place on Brown George pass him, having bet [illegible] against to the latter.

The Secretary of the Treasury [illegible] Overton [illegible] sales of Government gold, [illegible] his facility to that they will not be resumed [illegible], or the payment of the interest on the [illegible] bonds, which fall due in November.

Two negroes in Fort Wayne, Indiana, had a quarrel night before last about a gambling debt of a dollar and a half, when one of them stabbed the other six times in the breast and stomach, killing him instantly.

Mrs. Eustis, the daughter of W. W. Corcoran, Esq., the well known banker of Washington, is lying quite ill at Cowes, Isle of Wight, where her husband has erected a fine residence. Mr. Corcoran is now on his way to Europe to join them.

The London Times thinks Seward is delighted to have a new Foreign Secretary to wrestle with. It says he resembles a lawyer who desires to prolong litigation rather than obtain judgment. The Times is amused at the calmness with which he alludes to war as a "local disturbance."

President Juarez has issued an order repealing the general edict of confiscation against the property of the Imperialists. He has, however, confiscated and sold at public auction the finest printing establishment in Mexico, that of Senors Andrade y Escalante, in the capital.

The Mobile Register, of the 23d, says: We understand, from a cotton factor who has just returned from an extensive tour through this State and Mississippi, that the prospects for a crop are much better than was anticipated some three or four weeks back. If the warm, dry weather continues, the worms will entirely disappear.

On the morning of the 24th instant, a most daring burglary was committed at Knoxville, of the storehouse of Walter & Bros. The property taken was nearly all recovered, and six persons arrested—three Ogdens, two Holzeturs and one Smith. The last named were held over, and the rest advised to leave the county.

Maximilian's body has not left Queretaro. His remains have been most shamefully treated. The coffin was placed in a filthy, dark bodega, and all who desired had free access. The glass cover was broken, his beard and hair cut off and sold, as well as pieces of his blood-covered garments, and no one would recognize in the contents of the coffin the body of the murdered Maximilian.

A letter from Glasgow, Missouri, states that Dr. J. W. Southworth was instantly killed a day or two since, while riding in a buggy with another gentleman. The horses having taken fright and run, the Doctor jumped from the vehicle, and his head striking against a rock, he survived but a minute. His companion, Judge Pugh, jumped out and had both his legs broken.

The New York World says: "Among those embraced by the recent proclamation of amnesty is the Hon. Wm. B. Stokes, of Tennessee, a member of the Thirty-sixth Congress, who went into the rebellion and proposed to raise troops—now a Radical member of the last, and, we believe, also a member elect of the present House of Representatives."

William W. Herrington alias W. W. Brooks, who had but recently been arrested by Mr. Hatfield, upon a requisition by the Governor of Tennessee upon the Governor of Michigan, and returned to the jail of Fentress county, upon the charge of the murder of Preston Huff, was taken from it, on Friday week, by a number of armed men, and hung. He was of the Eleventh Michigan cavalry, afterwards deserted to the Confederacy, and abandoning that service, pursued the career of an outlaw.

The Democrats of Cincinnati held a meeting on Friday evening last, to indorse the nomination of General Cary, who is running for Congress in the Second Congressional District of Ohio. Towards the close of the meeting Jesse Grant, the father of General Grant, was presented to the audience by the president. He said he was too late to make any extended remarks. He thought General Cary was entitled to the confidence of the people, and should have their support.

John W. Murdaugh, of Portsmouth, Virginia, and George A. Berchert, of Savannah, Georgia, ex-officers of the Confederate Navy, commissioned by President Gutierrez to go to Carthagenia and investigate some robberies committed upon the steamer Rayo, were killed by the populace. Thos. L. Dornin, of Norfolk, Virginia, and Philip Smith, of Fairfax county, Virginia, were wounded. All of them were at the time in the Granadian service. Up to the 15th instant no arrests were made, and no one dared to speak of the affair. The dead bodies were stripped of everything valuable. The dispatches and letters of protection they bore were delivered next day to the President of the State all bespattered with their blood.

Dr. Luke P. Blackburn deeming himself safe under the recent amnesty proclamation, took the necessary oath before the United States Consul at Toronto, forwarded it to Washington, and reached Louisville to the general joy of his friends on Wednesday. We regret to say he was a little too quick in his movements, as on that very day the Secretary of the State officially denounced him to the President as a detestable felon, and his oath was ordered to be returned to him. All this persecution of a hightoned gentleman arises from a foolish and malicious charge that he had engaged with the Confederacy to infest the "loll" states with yellow fever during the war.

The International Copgress, which has just met at Paris, has decided that cholera is not contagious, but is eminently infectious, like yellow fever, typhus, etc. It originates where large numbers of individuals are collected under bad hygienic or climateric conditions. It is transported along great maritime, fluvial, or land ways of communication by the travelers who frequent them. Crowding is the principal cause of cholera and of almost all epidemics, and ventilation is the best means of preventing and stopping such maladies. To herd them together like beasts is to kill them as a matter of certainty. Individuals in an infected district must therefore be scattered, and themselves and their clothes disinfected as soon as possible.

A BLOODY AFFRAY AT NASHVILLE.

From the Banner of the 26th.]

In the Banner of the 17th instant appeared a communication signed "Dot" in which Colonel J. Albert Smith was denounced for incendiary language, alleged to have been used by him at a Radical meeting, preferring charges against him gravely affecting his character and social standing. The author was Mr. W. T. Beaty, of the city police. Colonel Smith, however, claims to have learned that Major L. B. Walker was the instigator of the charges, and stated that he held him responsible therefor. In our issue of the 21st Major W. accordingly published a card reiterating the allegations made by Mr. Beaty, with the addition what he (Mr. B.) obtained his information from me, and further, that this catalogue of J. Albert Smith's crimes against society, is the least disgraceful portion of the record." To this attack Colonel Smith replied in a card which appeared in the Banner of Yesterday. The language used by Colonel Smith was of such a nature, and the hostile feeling existing between the parties had already become so intense, that a rencounter was rendered inevitable.

From about ten to twelve o'clock yesterday morning Major Walker could be seen walking to and fro from his insurance office, in the Overton building, to the postoffice. About twelve o'clock he started from his office and walked leisurely along, on the north side of Church street, to the St. Cloud hotel. General Dawson soon after followed, went into the Adams' express office, and came out about the time Major Walker walked out of the St. Cloud. The latter proceeded slowly toward the Stacey House, the former following at a somewhat faster gait. As soon as Major Walker reached the entrance of the Stacey House, he put his hand to his side and walked in at a more rapid pace, until he reached the first opening of the partition which separates the billiard room from the main hall, when he saw Colonel J. Albert Smith, who was sitting on a desk, smoking a cigar, and looking at a game of billiards between Colonel Moore and another gentleman, with his back toward Major Walker, who immediately fired a shot at him, as the former claims, for the purpose of attracting Colonel Smith's attention. The ball whistled harmlessly by Colonel Smith, who immediately got down from the table, started rapidly towards Major Walker, pulled a revolver from his pocket, took a position somewhat behind the second partition, and shot Major Walker through the right lung, the ball lodging below the shoulder. The latter again shot at Colonel Smith, but missed him, probably on account of the partition, of which both seemed to have taken advantage. Major Walker then hastily retreated, facing his antagonist, behind the left hand door post, and leaning against it with his left side, while Colonel Smith changed his position and got behind the first partition, from which place he shot twice at Major Walker through the glass panes, between the door post and the casings, one ball taking effect in Major Walker's right shoulder, paralyzing his arm so that he could not pull the trigger of his revolver, which he had already cocked and held leveled, as far as his wound would permit, at Colonel Smith, the greater part of whose body was hid behind the partition. The other shot took effect in Major Walker's back, and ranged downward some distance just under the skin. General Dawson, who had remained about half way between the St. Cloud and Stacy House, heard the firing and hastened to where Major Walker was standing, at the door post, just as the latter was disabled. Major Walker informed his friend that he was wounded and could shoot no more. General Dawson repeated to Colonel Smith, who was about to shoot again, what Major Walker had said, and begged him to desist, at the same time taking Major Walker's pistol, which the latter held loosely in his hand. Whether at this stage of the affair General Dawson presented the weapon at Colonel Smith, is a matter of dispute between the two parties, as will be seen further on. Colonel Smith was now standing in the hall. Colonel Moore ran up and told him not to shoot again, that Major Walker was disabled.

General Dawson and Major Walker then entered the office room, where Colonel Smith again approached Major Walker, and no doubt would have taken another shot at him had not Colonel Moore placed himself in front of the former and urged him not to shoot, as Major Walker was disabled. Colonel Smith then replied that he would desist. Major Walker was at this time holding his right arm with his left hand, and was undoubtedly suffering great pain, though no one would have supposed so, from the calmness of his countenance. Colonel Smith's face was pale with anger. He asked Major Walker if he had got enough, if not, G—d d—n him, he could give him more. Major Walker replied in a cool and deliberate tone, that he was now disabled, but that he would probably get well of his wounds in about eight weeks, and would try him again. Until that time, Colonel Smith might regard the matter as an open matter between them. The Major, who was by this time bleeding very profusely, walked out to a carriage in company with some friends, and was driven to his home on the corner of Mulberry and Cherry streets, South Nashville.

After General Dawson had seen Major Walker enter the carriage, he returned to the entrance of the hotel, and started to go in, when he was accosted by Colonel Smith, who remarked that, G—d d—n him, he had also drawn a pistol on him, and had come to help Major Walker, or words to that effect. General Dawson replied that such language was unnecessary; that he had never sought to take Major Walker's life, who was no longer able to defend himself; that he had not come with any evil intention; that he had been attracted to the spot by hearing the pistol shots, and had seen none of the shots fired. Colonel Smith retorted that G—d d—n him, he had leveled a pistol at him. This General Dawson denied. Colonel Smith—"You are a G—d d—n liar." General Dawson immediately caught hold of Colonel Smith, as the latter was raising his revolver, whereupon his friends interferred and the excited disputants were separated.

Major Walker was attended by Dr's. Eve and Oney. Only two balls were found and extracted, one from the back, which had penetrated the right lung, and one from near the right shoulder. The shot through the thigh inflicted only a flesh wound. The physicians consider the wound through the lung dangerous, but not mortal. The other two wounds are not regarded as serious.

Colonel Smith remained at the Stacy House until the officers arrested and took him to the office of the Mayor. He was afterwards taken before Esquire Cassity and gave eight thousand dollars bond for his appearance before him to-morrow morning, at half-past ten o'clock, in the Common Council Chamber.

THE DISCOVERY OF THE AGE

NO material which has ever been discovered has effected greater benefits in the household economy than

McGIMSEY'S MAGIC SOAP.

It is a labor saving invention as well as an invaluable remedy in scurvy, scald head, eruptions of the skin and piles. Dandruff is removed from the head, the teeth whitened and cleansed, plate and jewelry cleaned, stains effectually removed from carpets, furniture, clothes, paint, varnish or marble with the greatest facility and without injury to the material. It is a great saving of time and labor in washing clothes. It is the only known soap which will wash flannels with the ease of cotton or linen without falling or shrinking. All these important objects can be effected without injury to the skin of the most delicate lady. Physicians pronounce it a delicious quality in bathing. The world is challenged to produce a soap which possesses so many valuable properties, and which is so incomplete and safe. It is a home invention, and defies competition in any part of the world. It has become a necessity in Memphis, and its use is rapidly spreading [illegible], Louisiana and certainly will extend over the Southern States, North and South America, Europe, Asia, Africa and Oceanica. Manufactured solely by C. F. McGIMSEY, Memphis, Tenn., and can soon be found at any respectable family grocery of New York. The proprietor is determined that its manufacture in this city shall rapidly spreading thousand for its use.

SATURDAY, : : : : : SEPTEMBER 28, 1867

THE elections take place in Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania in a few days. The candidates and their respective friends and supporters are making an earnest fight. The result of the recent elections in Maine, California and Montana has inspired the Democracy with hope, and they are making a vigorous canvass. Indeed, there has not been as much excitement for years. The election comes off in New York early in November, and it is generally conceded that the Democratic party will sweep the State. Last year the Radical majority in Pennsylvania, in a vote of over six hundred thousand, was only seventeen thousand one hundred and seventy-eight. Should the Democrats gain proportionately in Pennsylvania as they gained in Maine, the Radicals will be beaten seventy thousand votes. At the last election in Ohio the Republican majority was forty-three thousand six hundred and eighty-eight, and a gain equal to that made in Maine would give the Democrats about twelve thousand majority. Last year the Radical majority in Indiana was about fourteen thousand, and the Democrats can carry the State by thirty thousand majority next month, if the reaction which commenced in Maine has extended to the West. If the same rule be applied to New York, FENTON'S majority of last year of thirteen thousand, would be overcome, and the Democrats would sweep the State by a majority of one hundred thousand!

AN election was held in this city a few days since for Magistrate. Of course the negroes rushed up to exercise the prerogatives of freemen. We have already published the fact that many of them deposited their ballots in a letter box nailed to a lamp post. What a commentary upon negro suffrage. Such men as LEE and PIKE and JOHNSON—gentlemen of scholarly attainments—statesmen who thoroughly understood the genius of our Government—are excluded from the polls as unworthy of exercising the rights of freemen while the elective franchise has been placed in the hands of men who have not sense enough to find their way to the ballot box. Well may the patriot tremble for the liberties of the country and the stability of our institutions, when suffrage thus becomes a farce and a mockery. So it seems the destiny of the country has been transmitted to the hands of men who rally around a lamp post and deposit their ballots in a letter box! Whither are we tending, and to what are we coming? Shades of WASHINGTON, WEBSTER, CALHOUN and CLAY! The institutions of your country have been taken out of the hands of the intelligent and given over to men who have leaped out of slavery and ignorance to take possession of lamp-posts and letter boxes! Governments are not erected like temples. They are the slow growth of the oak that has withstood the storm for ages; but they will rise up like the mushroom and wither like the rose, when their destiny is confided to those who know not where to vote, nor for what they are voting.

MARYLAND has spoken out for her new Constitution by a most significant majority. It is another of those popular triumphs which so signally declare the right to be free has not been all seized by Radical tyranny, but there is leaven enough left to go back to the old landmarks, when men were, and of right ought to be free. Among the salutary reforms of the Constitution just adopted, is the abolishment of the oppressive county school system, and an arrangement for the perpetuation of the common schools of the city. It invests the Executive with the veto power, as a check upon hasty and unwise legislation. The following are other particulars in the details of the instrument, which was perfected under the auspices of the Democratic party; the delegation of the question of the rate of interest upon contract to the Legislature; the creation of new checks upon State and city expenditure; the denial to the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore of the right to loan the credit of the city without the consent of the General Assembly, and a majority of the people at a general election; and above all, and before all, the absence of those test-oaths which disgrace the Constitution of 1864, and which are odious to every freeman; so that it may be truly considered a new declaration of the independence of the people of Maryland.

WHAT is meant and what is gained by superseding SHERIDAN and SICKLES if their objectionable orders are to remain in force? We thought the objections were to their orders rather than to the men themselves. "My policy" is being rather slowly developed; and daylight is being wasted. Are we to wait until Pennsylvania and Ohio shall speak in October, and New York's voice is heard in November? The most vigorous canvass is being made in each of these States, but what assistance is the President of any of his Secretaries giving? An open policy, advocating the purchase of the five-twenties with greenbacks, would relieve the country of present tribulation, restore an equal amount of property to taxation, and once more satisfaction would beam on the faces of our countrymen. The idea indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury, that he can curtail circulation so as to effect a return to a specie standard, is as fallacious, as that the stupendous national debt, can be paid during McCULLOCH'S lifetime, by any other means than with greenbacks.

THE fact has been brought to light that Mayor BLODGETT, of Augusta, Georgia, in the year 1861, raised and commanded a company of Confederate volunteers for the Third Georgia regiment. They were afterward transferred to artillery service and known as "BLODGETT'S battery." Their old captain, the Mayor, is to be tried in October, at Savannah, before the United States District Court for perjury, for having taken the iron clad oath after having raised a Confederate company. Would it not be well for the Attorney General to look after Mr. Metropolitan Police BEAUMONT, for equally cogent reasons.

MIDNIGHT DISPATCHES.

FROM MEXICO.

CITY OF MEXICO, September 27.

Letters dated the 8th say that efforts are being made by Admiral Tegethoff to secure the liberty of Father Fisher, Maximilian's confessor. The Father was authorized by Maximilian to publish all correspondence with Napoleon. Bazine, it is said, recently refused 50,000 francs, offered by a French officer for the documents.

It is considered more than probable that Marquez is still concealed in the city.

FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, September 27.

A meeting was held at the armory of the 1st regiment last evening for the purpose of making arrangements for the reception of General Sheridan. Permission was granted to the colored societies and organizations to turn out. Rush C. Hawkins was made grand marshal.

The cholera is still violent at quarantine. Five deaths have occurred and fifteen cases are in the hospital, some of whom will not recover.

Mexican advices say that Vice Admiral Tegethoff is determined to return to Austria whether he receives the remains of Maximilian or not.

Pachero Diaz has accepted the nomination for the Presidency, and his adherents were organizing for the campaign.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, September 27.

Secretary McCulloch has issued an order forbidding clerks in the Treasury Department furnishing information to persons connected with the public press, unless by permission of the Secretary or his assistants. A violation of the rules subjects the offender to dismissal.

A dispatch from General Mower, at New Orleans, says that Lieutenant Wing, of the Fourth cavalry, died of yellow fever. The others are doing well.

The receipts of customs for the week ending September 21 are $4,108,276. The Treasury is not straitened, as represented in some quarters, and therefore is not obliged to resort to large sales of gold to meet its immediate necessities.

FROM NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, September 27.

General Thomas has informed the city authorities that he will uphold the State authorities. The Conservative candidates have therefore withdrawn, leaving the field to the Radicals. No collision is now feared.

FROM LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, September 27.

The citizens are subscribing liberally to the relief of sufferers from yellow fever in New Orleans and elsewhere.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, September 27.

The interments from yellow fever for the twenty-four hours ending at six o'clock this morning were seventy-seven.

The Republican has full returns of the vote to-day in the First, Second and Third Municipal Districts of the city. First District, 2066; Second, 1332; Third, 1337. Total, 4735. Nearly all the votes cast were for Convention. The number of registered voters in the Third District amounts to 24,225. The Republican express apprehension that unless the vote is heavier to-morrow the proposition for a Convention will fail. The law requiring a majority of registered voters to vote on the election fails.

MEMPHIS, TENN.

WE respectfully solicit a share of the business of the planters of the south. We thank our former customers for their patronage, and would be pleased to have them continue to favor us with it. Our charge are the same as heretofore. All cotton consigned to us will be insured unless otherwise instructed.

A Card.

WE will at once remove our warehouse, and will have it completed by the 15th of November, 1867, when we will be ready to receive goods for storage.

The abode will be 50 feet deep, three stories high, built of brick with cut stone trimmings. Those who have patronized us for the last two seasons, and those who may have patronized other houses, will please call and see us, and we will be ready for them.

We design establishing a Cotton Compress in connection with our warehouse, upon an adjacent lot, which will be ready by the 1st of October next, or sooner. The proximity of our establishment to the river renders the handling of cotton so convenient that we can guarantee prices for shipment by river free of drayage. The advantageous position in regard to one drayage on cotton for compressment from other warehouses, while all cotton sent for compressment there can be on all cotton in our warehouse for compressment there can be two drayages saved, since it would be as easy for us to transfer it from our shed to the Compress as to turn it out in the ordinary way for transfer by drays.

Public Sale

OF

ON TEN YEARS' CREDIT.

I PROPOSE to sell at public sale, to the highest bidder on THURSDAY, the 14th of November, 1867, about three hundred acres Fresh and Forest Land, on the Hernando Trust, situated three miles east of Memphis, at the head of Union avenue, and through which Union Central avenue and the Old State Line road. The most popular street pavements being now in process of construction in Memphis, and the street railways on the roads leading from the city directly through this property, must soon follow, thereby affording the most reasonable probability of its great and rapid enhancement of value.

In stating the advantages of this property, I would specially refer to the HEALTH of the locality as having been always considered equal if not superior to that of any portion of the city environs; while the high character of the neighborhood, and the exertions made for CHURCH AND SCHOOL PRIVILEGES, combine to render it one of the most desirable points for a suburban residence which the vicinity of Memphis affords.

The TITLE to this property has been vested in my father and myself for thirty years without interruption, and is free from any incumbrance.

THE SUBDIVISION OF THE GROUNDS will be in lots of about Five Acres, according to plats to be seen at the office of the Auctioneers. The avenues will be opened and the lots numbered so as to be readily examined before the day of sale.

TERMS:

One-tenth Cash, the balance in TEN ANNUAL INSTALMENTS, with interest from date. Warranty Deeds given, and Trust Deeds taken, waiving redemption. These terms will make it very easy for any one to secure a pleasant Home, which must constantly increase in value and comfort, as the growth of Memphis continues. N. R. TREZEVANT. CITY EDITOR.—The public is informed that Mr. J. M. Campbell is the Local Editor of the AVALANCHE.

Gents' dress hats at Wheaton & Co.'s.

POLICE COURT.—In this august tribunal yesterday morning dullness reigned supreme—scarcely enough utility in it to keep its blood in circulation.

PISTOL STOLEN.—Mr. F. H. Irwin had a fine repeater stolen from his premises yesterday, on the Raleigh road, near the fair grounds.

RETURNED.—We were glad to meet, on yesterday, our friend Captain John R. Wood, who has returned home after several weeks' absence in the Northwest.

MAD DOG.—A mad dog was started on Jefferson street, yesterday, in the neighborhood of the bridge. As soon as attacked he made for home, a singular freak for an animal in that condition, but he was finally killed.

The funeral of Policeman [illegible] Co. a took place yesterday afternoon, and his remains were interred in their final resting place by a large body of the [illegible] tropolitan Police and others.

PERSONAL.—Among the [illegible] of Stockton, Overton Hotel, we are pleased to notice the [illegible] two young gentlemen, of New Orleans, a leading member of the [illegible] Legislature, and during the war a gallant officer [illegible] Scott's Cavalry."

AVONIA JONES.—We are pained to hear that Avonia Jones is no better. She has reached New York, but is so prostrated that for the present it is considered dangerous to move her. Miss Jones has the best wishes of all her Memphis friends for her speedy return to health.

DRUNK.—A Belgian, one of Maximilian's bravos, was locked up last night for indulging too much in tanglefoot. It was his first offense, and for the credit of his compatriots we hope it will be his last.

BURGLARIOUSLY INCLINED.—Henry Anderson, Louis Brown, George Brown, Mike Johnson and Joseph Darling, all colored, were arrested yesterday for having in their possession burglar's tools. The Recorder made them come to time each in the sum of $25.

Nonpareil Hat, at Wheaton & Co.'s.

WIFE WHIPPING.—F. H. Noaks undertook to practically controvert the doctrine of Sawyer in regard to the treatment of females. He laid his hands upon his wife other than in the way of jest, and the Shelby County Court, in a jesting mood, insisted upon him jest paying $5 for his forcible justifications.

A NEW COUNTY.—A meeting was held at Grand Junction, on the 26th, for the purpose of agitating the formation of a new county out of the northern portion of Hardeman and Fayette counties. A series of resolutions was passed, looking to this object.

A NOBLE MOVEMENT.—The young men of Memphis are requested to meet at the Appeal editorial rooms on Sunday, at ten o'clock, for the purpose of inaugurating measures for the formation of an Howard Association, in connection with the parent one in New Orleans. This is a noble purpose and should commend itself to every Christian mind.

FIGHT AMONG THE HACKMEN.—Several hackmen amused themselves last evening by promiscuously pummeling each other, at the Memphis and Ohio depot. Their names were Michael Caney, Henry McDermott and Wm. Maldon. Officer Robinson accompanied them to the Central Station, where they found all necessary accommodations.

THE NEW ORLEANS, MOBILE AND CHATTANOOGA RAILROAD.—This road is now being rapidly surveyed. The route has been divided into three divisions, two of them, the northern, from Chattanooga to the intersection of the Coosa and Tennessee rivers, and the Southern, from Mobile to New Orleans, having already been completed.

"The Style," at Wheaton & Co.'s.

SHELBY COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT.—The jury in the case of Smith vs. Crenshaw et al returned a verdict for the plaintiff of $2,000 damages against all the defendants, except F. and Wm. Bond. The case of P. H. Noaks, indictment for horse stealing, was not taken up. Six jurors were sworn up to the time of adjournment.

MUNICIPAL COURT.—The October term of this court, criminal side, convenes on Tuesday, October 1, 1867. The Magistrates in and for the Fifth, Thirteenth and Fourteenth Civil Districts, are requested to file with the clerk of this court all appearance and examination bonds, etc., which the law requires to be filed without delay.

THE GREAT DISTRIBUTION.—In our notice yesterday of the grand distribution of prizes of the Mississippi Agricultural, Educational and Mechanical Aid Society, we did not pretend to give all the prizes drawn. We gave but the most important; there were more than 600 other premiums drawn.

ROBBERY.—The jewelry store on the corner of Jefferson street and the alley, between Second and Third, was broken into on Thursday night. A few watches were carried off, but owing to an alarm being given, the thieves decamped without securing much booty, although a hatfull of watches was found ready packed for carrying off. Entrance was effected through a back door, by means of a brace and an iron bit.

Frank Cheatham Hat, at Wheaton & Co.'s.

Emmons & Son, No. 10 Jefferson street, and No. 293 Main street, have received Beadle's Dime Novel No. 128, Littel's Living Age, Turf, Field and Farm, Freeman's Journal, Irish American, Irish People, Criminal Zeitung, New York Clipper, Metropolitan Record, Ledger, Leslie's Corner, Literary Album, Banner of Light, Boston Pilot, American Artisan, Herald of Health for October; and all the magazines for October; also a new work by Ariel entitled The Negro. Call and get a copy. A new book entitled Queen Victoria's Memoirs of the Prince Consort.

POSTAL.—Memphis stands fourteenth in the list of important postoffices. Twelve carriers delivered 75,907 mail letters, 6694 drop letters and 16,821 papers, and collected 63,923 letters. In August only 54,555 letters were sent from Washington—this month from Memphis. Memphis sends 50,000 forwards two-thirds as many letters per month as Baltimore, which contains upward of 200,000 population, and one-third as many as St. Louis.

RAILROAD AGENCY.—Mr. Jas. Speed, so long and favorably known as agent for the St. Louis and Memphis Packet Company, has resigned, and his brother, Mr. Wm Speed, a well known and popular river clerk, has been appointed his successor. We cannot but wish William all the success achieved by his brother, and to James we tender our earnest wishes for his success in whatever he undertakes.

Ed. Worsham has on his tables this morning all that the latest mails have brought to our city, among which we notice the Chimney Corner, Album, Record, Sporting Times, Clipper, Irish Republic, Irish People, Irish American, Freeman's Journal, Banner of Light, Boston Pilot, Field Turf and Farm, New York Ledger, Americus Miscellany, Atlantic Monthly for October and all the dailies; also stationery and all goods pertaining to a first class news agency.

Neglige Hat, at Wheaton & Co.'s.

UNITED STATES COURT.—The argument in the case of Alexander vs. Fitzpatrick closed yesterday. Judge Trigg will deliver his charge to the jury this morning. The Judge, in chambers, heard the argument of Colonel Morgan in the case of Dean vs. the Gayoso Gas Company. Another argument will be made to day. Court adjourned over to the usual hour this morning.

CHANCERY COURT—Wm. M. Smith, Chancellor, etc.—Convenes in special session on Monday morning, 30th September, 1867.

The cause set for hearing on that day is:

H. D.

SUMMERVILLE FEMALE INSTITUTE.—We paid a visit to this most excellent school a day or two ago, and no word that we can say would be too high praise of the excellence of its management. We have an article prepared, going into the minutia of the Institute, but are compelled to defer it at present for absolute want of room. It shall appear in a day or two. In the meantime we would state that parents wishing to send their daughters to school, could do no better than to confide them to the care of the venerable Dr. Rivers, and the excellent Mrs. Menefee. We would also state that on sufficient guarantees being given, the payment of the scholastic fee will not be insisted upon until some time in December.

TRANSFER OF REAL ESTATE.—M. D. L. Stewart to Andrew Stewart, deed, $7,500, 141½ acres of land on the waters of Wolf river, on the east side thereof, and on the east side of the Raleigh and Lafirange road.

G. M. McConnell to Thomas B. Jackson, deed, $4,000, 10.36 acres of land, part of lot No. 11, running with McConnell avenue 6.39 chains by 16.20 chains.

M. Cash et al to John J. Murphy et al, deed, $1,200, lot on the south side of Adams street; said lot joins the property of O. C. Woodward et al, and fronts 61 feet by 126 feet.

LAW COURT.—The jury in the case of Watson, trustee, vs. Memphis and Tennessee Railroad Company had not agreed upon a verdict up to a late hour last evening. Case No. 620, McDonnell vs. Titus, was taken up, but not disposed of. Court adjourned over to Thursday morning next, at which time the cause of ferae nobis, and the special cases set for yesterday, will be disposed of. On Friday cases on writs of inquiry will be investigated, subject, however, to the above cause. Court will probably adjourn on that day to meet in course the first Monday in October next.

THE DUNAPHY HOMICIDE.

The Examination and Discharge of Owen.

A Clear Case of Self-Defense.

This case, the main points of which we gave yesterday, was brought up before Squire Moore yesterday afternoon. Some delay was experienced in finding a prosecuting attorney, but finally Mr. C. Richards made his appearance on the scene, and acted as such attorney. For the defense were Messrs. Sale and Yerger, and Judge Swann. The witnesses examined were Jas. Shoham, the driver of the car, P. T. Frummer, M. G. C. Price, detective McCabe, Mr. Thomas Cockrell, Major Winn, H. Rhea and Mr. J. L. Marion. The evidence was not conclusive as to the fact that the act was done in self defense. The character of the accused was shown to be excellent as a peaceful and law abiding citizen. The only man who saw the quarrel from its inception to its melancholy termination was Mr. Thomas Cockrell, who was in the car in company with some ladies. We give his testimony below. The testimony of all the witnesses went to prove the fact that Murphy was the first to draw a weapon and that in the struggle Owen got after the fact that Murphy, the conductor, had endeavored to save himself by holding the pistol. The following is Mr. Cockrell's testimony:

Mr. Thomas Cockrell sworn—I was at the St. Agnes Academy standing in front of the gate, with the car came up; in the car were three ladies and the deceased; he was in the front part of the car, as it was on its outward trip; he was apparently asleep; conductor did not say anything until the car stopped; the deceased got up and commenced cursing the prisoner, and threatening to knock him down, and knock his head off; the car stopped at Orleans street, near St. Agnes', and took on one lady; the ladies were much frightened, and some wished to leave the cars, but were persuaded to remain; the conductor on opposite decided, cursing his deputy, and was disposed to avoid a difficulty; deceased kept on swearing; he said he was an officer; conductor wished to see his badge; he threw open his coat, but would not allow a close examination, and refused to give his number. Owen told him he must quit swearing so in the presence of the ladies, that no gentleman would so conduct himself; he said he did not care a d—n for the ladies; Owen said a man who used such language should not stay on his car; Owen got up, and the scuffle commenced on the platform; they both fell together, Owen on top; before the fall from the car, saw Murphy have a pistol in his hand; Owen had no weapon that I could see; after the fall, they rose almost together, when Owen caught the pistol again, with his right hand, and lunged straight out at Murphy with his left; Owen then started for his car, which had kept in motion; Murphy followed him up, or to yards, his pistol still in his hand, when he fell. I think he was trying to shoot him. Owen asked me my name, and expressed his determination to immediately give himself up.

Cross Examined—I was sitting down when they fell from the car; the pistol was drawn before they fell; they were on the ground scarcely a second; the lunge was made instantly; Owen was trying to keep him from using his pistol; the deceased was a smaller man than Owen; they did not clinch it.

In this testimony was contained the gist of the whole matter, and the case was argued by Messrs. Yerger and Sale for the defense, and Mr. C. Richards for the State. At the conclusion of the speeches Owen was discharged by Squire Moore on the ground that the homicide was committed in self-defense.

NEW MEMPHIS THEATER.—Last night Belle Boyd appeared before a Memphis public for her first benefit, and we are glad to say that the house was crowded. We knew it could not be otherwise when it was known that the heroine of a hundred escapades appeared on the stage. Miss Cazaux, was to how to a Southern audience, behind the footlights as a Memphis theater. The plays selected were the "Honeymoon," and "Faint Heart," and no better selection could have been made to bring out the good points of Lady Belle and her confreres on the stage. She has decided to play last night, and her Julians was far ahead of many more pretentious, be-heralded, and be-puffed stars. Belle, and her accomplished agent, we are pleased to see have entirely ignored the usual clap-trap which for some, who own no souls to save, is the foundation of their fame. We hasard nothing in saying that no actress has ever appeared on the American stage, as a novice of three months' wear, who presents to the public so handsome and unprejudiced critic so many points of excellence to approve and so few faults to condemn. True, her enunciation may be defective, and at times sounds positively so, but all these minor defects which the carpet may select for animadversion shrivel before the glow of her genial and impassioned nature. In Juliana, last night, she was the natural representative of her sex, a pure, froward, talkative, self-willed child of nature, while, as the Duchess in "Faint Heart," she was unexceptionable. She told us yesterday that she was bound to succeed, and, from what we saw last night, we are convinced that she will be, as an artiste, a success, as she was as a patriot. So far we have purposely refrained, from scanning too closely the merits of the stock company, for we believe in thoroughly understanding and watching a man's good and bad points before we exlol or "dam him with faint praise." The company is just now getting into good working order, and before long we shall pay our respects to them individually and collectively.

Bancroft Hat, at Wheaton & Co.'s.

RACES.—There will be two races at the track to-day. One is a running race, for which several fine entries have been made. The other is a trotting match, purse $100; his entrance, second horse to save his entrance. A fine day's sport is expected.

PROVISION THIEVES.—Two negroes employed at the Hardwick House were tempted by a luscious and aromatic sugarcured ham or two, last night, to break the Seventh Commandment. The temptation was successful. It always is when Sambo's virtue is his only protection against vice. They caught the hams, although themselves sons of Ham, and officer Johnston caught them while hors-pered with the hams, for which Sergeant Hampton looked them up to appear before the Police Court this morning, where they most probably will have an (h)am ple opportunity for repentance.

HOLDING INQUESTS.—We notice a most remarkable looseness in the modus operandi of holding inquests in this city. The law provides in the manner of holding them, and by whom they should be held. It appears to be a custom, or at least a practice in this country to almost entirely ignore the coroner in such cases if a magistrate is more convenient. There are certain cases in which any justice of the peace can hold legal inquests, such as when the cause of death is purely accidental and when there is no reason for a belief that death was caused by the act of another. We are led to these remarks from the fact that the coroner was not notified of the death of Murphy the day before yesterday, and that the inquest was held by a justice of the peace, who, if he had consulted the law upon the subject, would have seen at once that his action was illegal, and that the verdict of the jury was null and void. We subjoin a section from the code of Tennessee for the benefit of our magistrates.

[illegible] But should the jury be of opinion that the person came to his death by the act of another, by whom unknown, it is the duty of the Justice to give notice to the Coro er, who shall hold such an inquest.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Commodore Mart. Wall returned from the East yesterday, where he has been engaged in purchasing a large stock of groceries. Commodore is one of our most public spirited citizens and enterprising merchants.

The American, Captain Ed. Nolan, is advertised to leave today as five p.m. for Arkansas river.

The Cornelia arrived from St. Louis yesterday at noon, with a cargo of groceries. She discharged her trip and returned to St. Louis at five p.m.

The Natoma (so called) cleared last evening for Marianna, with a good trip.

We desire to remind our Arkansas and Mississippi friends that the Worsham House is most admirably maintained by the present proprietor, Mr. Galloway. Centrally located and newly fitted up and furnished, with large, airy, well ventilated apartments. It is a most desirable place of sojourn. Every attention is paid to guests, and the waiters are always ready and alert in help them to their wish. Mr. Miller, a courteous and attentive gentleman, is domiciled in the office, and he takes delight in making the weary traveler at home.

The lower Ohio navigation is very precarious, with thirty inches of water reported in Channell's reach, above Owensboro', and only twenty-six inches at French Island.

The Virginia is hard aground at Hare's lake, ten miles below here. She is laying with her bow down stream, head on the bar, and one hundred yards out of the channel. She will have to lighten over.

The Des Arc, Captain John Elliott, arrived from Vicksburg yesterday morning, with six bales of new cotton. She is the regular Saturday Vicksburg and bends packet, and leaves the wharf to-day, at five a.m. Messrs. Miller & Co. Cad. Banks, two gentlemen noted for their urbanity and courtesy, have charge of the office.

The Ida, bound from St. Louis for Duvall's Bluff, with two barges of government freight, sank one of her barges, loaded with hay, in White river, on Wednesday, three miles from the mouth. Hay and barge a total loss.

The Rowena, in command of Captain John B. Davis, will leave the wharf at five p.m., for White river and all way landings. She has superb passenger accommodations, and in the regular line of trade small packages will be taken. Mader, Miss Harry and Sharp, clever and courteous gentlemen, have charge of the office.

The City of Cairo, Captain Bob Riley, is the regular saturday Cairo and St. Louis packet. She leaves at five o'clock p.m.

The Bishicon, Captain Blake, with Alf. Grissom in charge of the office, leaves the wharf at five p.m. for Vicksburg and the bends.

The Mary Erwin struck a log above Paducah, on Wednesday, which knocked a small hole in her, causing her to sink in shallow water. She was raised in a few hours after sinking, and was uninjured.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Mississippi Navigation Company was held at Cairo on Wednesday. The object of the company is to carry out Captain De Haven's new system of steamboating. All of the officers and most of the stockholders were present. The principal business disposed of was the changing of the company's domicil from New Orleans to Cairo, in consequence of the facilities offered by the Illinois State laws, and to obtain a more central position. Enough stock has been subscribed to authorize the issuing of contracts for building boats. Bids are being received.

The Selma, Captain Rogers' new side wheeler for the New Orleans and Alabama river trade, is completed, and ready to take her departure as soon as the river will permit.

The surveying party of Captain Roberts, who have charge of the survey of the Ohio river, from Cincinnati to Cairo, reached Jeffersonville a few days ago. They have made a careful survey of the river along its beach, and placed permanent posts, with the distance marked thereon, every five miles. This is the only accurate survey of the Ohio ever made, and the distance between Cincinnati and Louisville is considerably reduced. It has always been called one hundred and fifty miles between the two points, but this survey makes it only one hundred and thirty-two miles. From Cincinnati to Madison it is eighty-six miles; and from Madison to Howard's ship yard, at Jeffersonville, the point the party has reached, is forty-four miles, making a distance of one hundred and thirty miles from Cincinnati. From the ship yard to the mail boat landing, at Louisville, it is fully two miles, making the distance one hundred and thirty-two miles. The object of the survey is to locate the bars and obstructions to navigation, with a view to report the same at the next meeting of Congress.

The St. Louis Republican of Thursday says:

The Paragon has been withdrawn from the Miami line, and will load for Memphis under the auspices of the Memphis Packet Company. This steamer takes a cargo for New Orleans to Memphis, when it will be transferred to one of the M. V. T. Co.'s packets to Cairo. We think the packet a novel one—a Mississippi "lightering" for a cargo line. Captain Duncan S. Carter was yesterday fully installed as Superintendent of the M. & N. O. to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Captain Talcott. Captain Cunningham, Captain H. B. Hemmings has sold his interest in the steamer Antelope to Captain W. R. Carter and Mr. Campbell has sold his interest in the late purchase of Johnson-town coal to the contractors to take place on the 1st proximo. It was sold out at the rate of $45,000 for the lot.

The Cincinnati Commercial of Thursday has the following:

We have never seen our levee looking dryer than it does at present. The Marysville, Portsmouth, Pomeroy and Louisville packets are all on the ways. Boats running for St. Louis, Memphis and New Orleans. This is owing to the low water in the river. We have a fine opening for the railroad to all cities, as all railroads competing with the river have advanced freights after the packets have laid up. We already hear of quent complaints relative to the detention of freight shipped north by railroad. Captain Shallcross has purchased the H. M. Childs for $6000. She leaves for Louisville to-day, with her registration in the office. Captain Shallcross intends taking the Childs south. Captain Hill, R. C. Gray and Thomas Connelly has purchased the Lawrence for $12,500. Pilot Amos Brown, reports only seven feet in the canal, with eight inches at "Night Mile," and thirty-three inches at "Four Mile." Captain R. D. Devenny, a gentleman every way admirably qualified for the position, has been appointed local inspector of hulls for the Seventh, (Cincinnati) District, in place of W. A. Stewart, resigned. He will enter on his duties forthwith. The Robert Burns has been chartered for the Portsmouth trade. We understand she goes up on her first trip to-day. Captain Geo. ge Worf has purchased Captain James Maginnis' and Peter echwab's interests in the hay Erwin for $2,000. Mr. H. Brown, a well known Cincinnati and St. Louis pilot, is prepared to leave for California, where he will reside permanently.

COMMERCIAL.

DAILY AVALANCHE OFFICE,
SATURDAY, September 28, 1867.

Business was more active yesterday than on the day previous. There was a fair trade doing in plantation supplies, and the streets wore the appearance of activity. There was a large number of wagons, loaded with cotton, in town yesterday from the country, and there seemed to be more movement in merchandise of every description than has been observed any day for the past month. Thirty six bales of new cotton came in by the river. By next week, the packets will no doubt come in well freighted with our leading staple. The leading markets are well supplied, with prices steady and well maintained. Tennessee white corn, in the car, of excellent quality, is selling on the streets at 90c per bushel. The yield of corn, in this section of the country, is large enough to supply the wants of the whole State.

COTTON—The market yesterday was active, with offerings freely, but few buyers. Prices were nominal and unsettled, and the cotton holders asked prices above buyers' views. There was a fair degree of activity on the market; but transactions for the day were small. Buyers were not disposed to operate freely, and only made purchases to fill up small orders. We quote

Middling	19½@20c
Strict Middling	19½@20c
Low Middling	18½@19c
Good Ordinary	17 @17½c
Ordinary	16 @16½c

We take pleasure in publishing the following from one of our best informed and most intelligent merchants. He knows what he says, and imparts intelligence that can easily be compensated by those to whom it is addressed. Those who pass Memphis in search of "better bargains," will find themselves lost, when competing with those whom our "merchant" invites here, to make light purchases and frequent to replenish their respective stocks.

MESSRS EDITORS:—In your paper of Wednesday, I perceived the following paragraph:

"WE IN ST.—Over ninety thousand dollars passed up the river yesterday, for investment in merchandise, because the terms offered by our merchants were not a favorable as those to be obtained in the North. Assertion and argument to the contrary notwithstanding, this is no a pertinent question for our merchants to look into, and we do it this time.

Why it is, that merchants seeking to purchase stocks of goods for the Mississippi Valley, and the country west of the river, should pass their most accessible and central distributing point is a question which well may be asked; and it is an important one to Memphis merchants, when the fact that trade does pass them for north western and eastern markets, is a thing which no one denies.

The merchants of Memphis have ever been willing to give credit: where it was deserved, and it cannot be well understood why our country friends should pass us. To the student of the economy of trade, the home market is certainly the one naturally suggested as deserving to be patronized, and Memphis, with her facilities offers this inducement. Her merchants are gentlemen of character, and, of late, many of the old "standbys" are re-entering the arena to give additional weight and influence to the claims on this merchants who should right fully buy in this market. The opportunity of buying light and often, will keep the country merchant constantly supplied with new and fresh stock, while the expense and time consumed in an eastern trip, compel him to lay in a large stock, to be for months a burden on his hands. Goods can be landed in Memphis within a fraction as cheap as at St. Louis, Louisville or Cincinnati, and can be sold as cheap as in either of those cities, when the buyers offer cash or good paper, and on as good terms to first class men, as in any city east or west.

Let the country merchant disabuse his mind with regard to the great inducements which a distant market affords. Give us a trial, and it will take but a short time to convince him that a home market is the one for him to patronize. I have merely mentioned the difference in time of transportation between Memphis and more distant markets, which, with going and returning, will average thirty days. Memphis merchants will do right by their friends. MERCHANT.
